Some folks may not be aware that when they purchase or enjoy a Kentucky Proud product, the KADF helps make that possible. Many folks may not know that hundreds of beginning farmers are taking advantage of very affordable capital through KAFC beginning farmer loans made possible by the KADF. Many Kentuckians may not know that the Kentucky FFA Foundation and the Kentucky Friends of 4-H Foundation have each received $2.2 million from the KADF to enhance the leadership development programs of these outstanding youth organizations.

The first 15 years of KADF investments have and continue to produce positive results for all of Kentucky. Now, let's all focus on the next 15 years, which could prove to be even better!

Sincerely,

Roger Thomas

Letter from the Executive Director

The programs which are and have been funded by the Kentucky Agricultural Development Fund (KADF), have evolved and changed since the inception of the KADF in 2000. In other words, the programs have transitioned to meet the changing needs of farm families, agribusinesses and the rural communities across Kentucky.

Another transition is taking place as we near the completion of the Beshear administration. This will be the third executive branch transition since the beginning of the KADF. The positive impacts of the KADF investments have ensured the sustainability of the KADF through the Patton, Fletcher and Beshear years in Kentucky. The continued success of those investments, coupled with the need for future incentives both on-farm and in the agribusiness sector, will provide the foundation for a successful transition to the next Governor’s term.

Through county and regional investments such as farmers’ market infrastructure, on-farm upgrades, agri-tourism development and statewide programs like Kentucky Proud, youth leadership development in 4-H and FFA, Kentucky Agricultural Finance Corporation (KAFC) loan programs and many others, the KADF has touched Kentuckians in every county across the state.

About Us

The Governor’s Office of Agricultural Policy (GOAP) was established in 1998 to provide a direct link between the Governor of the Commonwealth and one of Kentucky’s most important industries, agriculture. The Kentucky Agricultural Development Board and the Kentucky Agricultural Finance Corporation Board are administered by the GOAP.

The Kentucky Agricultural Development Fund, in statute, is administered by the Kentucky Agricultural Development Board (KADB). The mission of the board is to invest these funds in innovative proposals that increase net farm income and affect tobacco farmers, tobacco-impacted communities and agriculture across the state by stimulating markets for Kentucky agricultural products. This includes finding new ways to add value to Kentucky agricultural products and exploring new opportunities that will benefit Kentucky farms now and in the future.

The Kentucky Agricultural Development Board is chaired by Governor Steve Beshear and consists of five statutory members or their designees and 11 appointed members. Statutory members include the Governor, Commissioner of Agriculture, Economic Development Cabinet Secretary, head of the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service and the president of Kentucky State University.

The Kentucky Agricultural Finance Corporation (KAFC) addresses the unique financing needs of agriculture in the Commonwealth. The mission of the KAFC board is to strengthen Kentucky agriculture by providing access to low interest loan programs through joint partnerships with local lending institutions. KAFC assists beginning farmers, farm families and agribusinesses obtain the necessary capital to establish, maintain or expand their agricultural operation.

Of the 10 private members appointed to the KAFC board by the Governor, two represent commercial lenders, one may be an officer from a farm credit association, one may be an agricultural economist, one shall be a tobacco farmer, one a cash grain farmer, one a livestock farmer, one a dairy farmer, one a horticultural farmer and one from the equine industry.

Note: KADB is governed by KRS 248.701 to 248.727 and 10 KAR 2:020; the KAFC is governed by KRS 41.606, KRS 247.940 to 247.978, 202 KAR 9:010, 202 KAR 9:020.
The Success of House Bill 510 & 512 Legislation

House Bill 510

The 2014-2016 Executive Branch budget bill, passed by the General Assembly in 2014, projected significant reductions in tobacco settlement revenue for both fiscal years and thus appropriated reduced amounts for the Kentucky Agricultural Development Fund (KADF) and other programs that rely upon this revenue stream. As a result of a negotiated settlement between the Commonwealth and cigarette manufacturers in June 2014, Kentucky received $57.2M more than was budgeted for Fiscal Year 2015 and 2016. Recognizing the opportunity to return these affected programs to previous funding levels, the 2015 Kentucky General Assembly passed a bill that appropriated and authorized a portion of the excess negotiated settlement funds.

House Bill 510 amended the 2014-2016 executive branch biennial budget increasing the funding for KADF state programs by $5,000,000; county accounts by $6,000,000; and the Kentucky Agricultural Finance Corporation by $5,000,000. It also secured funding for the Energy and Environment Cabinet’s Environmental Stewardship Program, $5,000,000; Early Childhood Development Initiatives, $24,198,900; and Health Care Initiatives, $9,159,000.

The 2014 settlement, negotiated by Attorney General Jack Conway, resolved 10 years of disputed claims over those enforcement obligations and ensuing litigation, starting with the 2003 payments and running through 2012.

House Bill 512

In March, Governor Steve Beshear signed into law House Bill 512 that helps protect and preserve Kentucky’s future Master Settlement Agreement (MSA) payments.

MSA payments support Kentucky’s agricultural diversification programs, and provide critical
Through the KADF, more than $450 million in MSA funds have been invested in an array of county, regional and state projects designed to increase net farm income and create sustainable new farm-based business enterprises.

“The citizens of the Commonwealth have benefited greatly from the $1.75 billion in annual MSA payments received from tobacco manufacturers since joining the MSA,” said Gov. Beshear. “Those sums have helped fund cancer research projects, have provided for critical health care and early childhood development services, and have played an important role in advancing Kentucky agriculture through the Kentucky Agricultural Development Fund (KADF). Attorney General Jack Conway’s settlement and this important legislation help preserve and protect funding for these investments in the future.”

Through the KADF, more than $450 million in MSA funds have been invested in an array of county, regional and state projects designed to increase net farm income and create sustainable new farm-based business enterprises. Kentucky continues to make great strides toward lessening Kentucky’s dependence on tobacco production while revitalizing the farm economy.

The provisions of HB 512 implement terms of the 2014 Settlement Agreement and broaden the responsibilities of all tobacco manufacturers, especially those manufacturers that are not signatories to the MSA, called Nonparticipating Manufacturers (or NPMs), who want to sell cigarettes in Kentucky, and also give the state new tools to enforce those enhanced and existing obligations.

“House Bill 512 helps to ensure that Kentucky's future MSA payments will be protected from costly litigation and provide stability to the critical programs funded by those payments,” said Roger Thomas, executive director of the Governor’s Office health care and early childhood development services for all Kentuckians.

Passage of HB 512, effective July 1, 2015, follows the June 2014 Settlement Agreement between Kentucky and cigarette manufacturers ending a long-running legal dispute over an enforcement obligation under the MSA and restoring certainty to Kentucky’s annual MSA payments from cigarette manufacturers.

The 2014 settlement, negotiated by Attorney General Jack Conway, resolved 10 years of disputed claims over those enforcement obligations and ensuing litigation, starting with the 2003 payments and running through 2012.

“The citizens of the Commonwealth have benefited greatly from the $1.75 billion in annual MSA payments received from tobacco manufacturers since joining the MSA,” said Gov. Beshear. “Those sums have helped fund cancer research projects, have provided for critical health care and early childhood development services, and have played an important role in advancing Kentucky agriculture through the Kentucky Agricultural Development Fund (KADF). Attorney General Jack Conway’s settlement and this important legislation help preserve and protect funding for these investments in the future.”
A combination of $24,000 in county and state KADFs were used to renovate an existing facility and purchase equipment for the market.

Nancye Chilton, treasurer of the Pleasureville Economic Development Council said, “We are just so grateful that we have received funds to allow us to carry out this project. It has been a wonderful project for us to do, not only for the citizens of Pleasureville, but also for the vendors, the farmers, so that they can sell their produce. The tobacco industry used to be really big in and around Henry County. It is no longer, and this is giving an avenue for farmers to sell produce. We are really proud that we have accomplished this, and we are just so thankful for those who have contributed to this project to make it possible.”

Jacob Beckley, secretary for the Pleasureville Economic Development Council added, “It’s great to have the farmers here, but another great aspect of this project is that we are saving our main street. A lot of Kentucky main streets are going away and our main street had depleted. The building now looks great, and the whole building is rejuvenated instead of being torn down and depleted. Its now a functional operating building that is just great for our town. The funds have just been unbelievable, and we would not have been able to do this project without them.”

of Agricultural Policy. “The bipartisan support of this legislation indicates the importance of and the need for this measure.”

The MSA is an agreement between 52 states and territories and the major tobacco companies signed in 1998 to settle and resolve a variety of legal claims asserted by the states against the tobacco companies. Legislation to implement the MSA in Kentucky was initially enacted in 2000, and subsequently has been amended from time to time.

Under the MSA, the participating tobacco manufacturers make annual payments to the states. In turn, states have enforcement obligations to ensure that any manufacturers that are not signatories to the agreement, or NPMs, do not circumvent the laws requiring escrow deposits. If a state is found to have not adequately fulfilled its enforcement obligations, then its MSA payments from the participating tobacco manufacturers may be reduced.

Projects and Programs to Stimulate Growth

Kentucky Agricultural Development Fund projects are expected to positively affect the economic status of farmers and the targeted agricultural community. Successful applicants should be able to demonstrate the following:

- Economic/commercial viability and feasibility of the proposed project; project will be self-sustaining within a reasonable period of time; project will have a significant impact on farm income for multiple producers; project will have high potential for growth; and will have potential to include more farmers in the future.

County Agricultural Investment Program (CAIP) CAIP offers ten investment areas that give Kentucky agricultural producers the ability to increase net farm income, add value to their product, and diversify their operations. CAIP benefits and enhances agriculture across the state by stimulating markets for Kentucky agricultural products.

Shared-Use Equipment Program assists broad-based community organizations with the purchase of farm equipment. The equipment purchased is made available for producer use in a specific county on a leased basis.

“The Ag Development Fund has enabled the transformation of most areas of Kentucky agriculture. A huge reason for the success of these funds is the thoughtful and diligent stewardship by the members of the Ag Development Board.”

– Dr. Nancy Cox, Dean of UK College of Agriculture, Food and Environment
Gary Carter, Harrison County Extension Agent said, “Over the years we have purchased seeders, sprayers, scales, chutes and vegetable equipment as part of the Shared-Use Program. We are happy to now say the program is self-sufficient. The big key for us was all the small farmers in Harrison County. If it were not for the shared-use program, they would not be able to use the larger pieces of equipment.”

Megan Baxter, a Leesburg farmer said, “I use the shared-use drill and the no-till seeders every year for my grain and for my beans. I have not been able to go out and just purchase a drill on my own. I have used just about every piece of equipment on my farm, and I do it every year. I think it’s a big help especially for someone who does not have money to spend $30,000 on a drill or $15,000 on a cattle chute.”

Financing Programs

The Kentucky Agricultural Finance Corporation (KAFC) is working to develop and market new loan opportunities to producers to purchase their first farm or provide access to capital for an existing operation. The following capital access programs are available to producers and processors in Kentucky:

Agricultural Infrastructure Loan Program (AILP)
AILP is designed to help Kentucky's agricultural producers by providing access to below market financing for the acquisition, renovation and construction of agricultural structures that enhance the profitability of their farming operations.

Beginning Farmer Loan Program (BFLP)
BFLP assists individuals with farming experience who desire to develop, expand or buy into a farming operation. Eligible projects include: purchasing of livestock, equipment, agriculture facilities and real estate, securing working capital, or investing in a partnership or LLC.

Large Animal Veterinary Loan Program (Vet)
The Vet Loan program is designed to assist individuals licensed to practice veterinary medicine in Kentucky who desire to construct, expand, equip or buy into a practice serving large animal producers, including goat, sheep, swine, and other smaller food animals.

Agricultural Processing Loan Program (APLP)
APLP is designed to provide loan opportunities to companies and individuals in Kentucky interested in adding value to Kentucky-grown agricultural commodities through further processing.

“...The Agricultural Development Fund has provided invaluable support of Agriculture Education and Kentucky FFA as we strive to prepare the next generation of leaders for Kentucky and Kentucky Agriculture.”

- Matt Chaliff (KY Association FFA)
On November 18, 2014 Eddie Gibson, his wife Marcy and daughter Maddison made Kentucky Dairy Industry history. It was on this day that their cows were milked by a robotic milker. Ed-Mar Dairy owned and operated by the Gibson Family was the first Kentucky dairy to install a robotic milking system. A system which allows the cows to have access to be milked 24 hours a day whenever they choose.

They were able to do this with the help of a $100,000 Agriculture Infrastructure Loan through the Kentucky Agricultural Finance Corporation.

Ed-Mar Dairy, is a 50-cow Holstein farm located in Kenton County. Eddie, a fourth generation dairyman, has always strived to achieve excellence in all areas of his operation.

Production increased 10% by the eighth day of using the robotic milker and additional production increases are possible. Although production increased, his main reason for installing this equipment was so he could spend more time with his family.

The On-Farm Energy Efficiency Incentives Program provides incentives for Kentucky farm families to increase the energy efficiency of existing equipment or facilities. Successful applicants can receive 50 percent reimbursement of the actual cost of a qualified energy savings item, up to $10,000.

Energy costs can claim a large portion of farm budgets each year. Making energy efficient upgrades can lead to significant energy and financial savings. The On-Farm Energy Efficiency Incentives Program allows Kentucky farmers to accomplish their energy efficiency goals while reducing environmental impact.

The Kentucky Agricultural Development Fund is dedicated to helping Kentucky agriculture become more sustainable and profitable for generations to come by supporting this program.

The Governor’s Garden Program

The Governor’s Garden Program seeks to promote products which are grown and produced in Kentucky by local farmers. This program encourages Kentucky businesses, organizations, schools, and communities, to cultivate and maintain their own gardens.

The Governor’s Garden program further seeks to educate the public about the health and economic benefits of gardening and utilizing locally grown foods. There are six gardens across the Commonwealth in various locations.

The Commonwealth Garden Initiative is the newest Governor’s Garden Program. Schools, organizations, associations, parks and others are eligible to apply once a year to begin the process of having their own garden to encourage healthy eating and locally-grown foods within their community. If selected, participants will receive assistance for one year including seed/transplants and one-on-one consultation on the planning and implementation of their garden. The Commonwealth Garden program grew from three gardens in 2014 to fifteen gardens in 2015.

This initiative will provide a new opportunity for selected schools, organizations, associations, parks and others to begin the process of having their own community garden. I am very excited to expand the Governor’s Garden Program to include the recognition and support of community gardens throughout the state.”

– First Lady Jane Beshear
The Governor’s Office of Agricultural Policy (GOAP) continues to partner with the Kentucky Broadcasters Association’s Public Education Partnership (PEP) program to increase the awareness of Kentucky agriculture and highlight the integral role farm families play across the Commonwealth.

Through this program, radio and television commercials are played in every market of the state. In each spot, you will hear the tag line, “Kentucky farm families, feeding Kentucky, feeding the world.” This year’s commercials are focused on the consumer as well as our farm families.

This is a very special partnership with three leading livestock commodity groups to leverage Kentucky Agricultural Development Funds: the Kentucky Cattlemen’s Association, Kentucky Pork Producers and the Kentucky Poultry Federation.

To view the commercials used in this initiative please visit the Governor’s Office of Agricultural Policy website at agpolicy.ky.gov.

The combined investment of $150,000 for the 2014 program resulted in a returned value of $1,694,843 for the 73,966 commercials aired.

Saving Energy on the Poultry Farm

White Oak Farms, operated by beginning farmer Stephen Burnett, is a four house poultry facility located in Fountain Run, Ky. Stephen has an active contract with an integrator and is growing broilers. He has made necessary upgrades to maximize growth potential and minimize energy costs for his operation by installing LED lighting with dimmers and energy efficient heaters. The total project cost was $31,551 with an annual expected savings of $4,780 (120 million BTU’s).

Stephen said, “As a beginning farmer in the poultry industry, high energy bills have been one of the biggest obstacles to overcome when trying to make a profit. I would like to thank the Kentucky Ag Development Board, and the Kentucky Agricultural Development Fund for creating these cost share programs. The KADF On-Farm Energy Efficiency Incentives Program grant has helped my operation tremendously.”
